Should Romulus police be retained?

Chief presents proposals to Council

A COMPLETE CHECKUP—A Child Health and Immunization Clinic opened to all residents of Romulus, Huron, Sumpter and Van Buren Townships was held at United Methodist Church, 11190 Olive St., Romulus, last Monday afternoon. Taking advantage of the services provided at the clinic was Mrs. David Trammell shown with her two small children, Shelly, 4, and James, 3. Dr. Charles Truscon checks over Shelly. The clinic will be held the third Monday of each month. It is under the supervision of the Wayne County Health Department.

By HENRY CANTIN

Proposals for retaining the Romulus Police Department and future plans for its growth have been presented to Romulus City Council for study and approval, it was learned Monday.

The proposals were detailed by Romulus Police Chief Jacob J. Koch at an executive session of city council held last Thursday.

Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael and members of council are presently considering a detailed report of available services of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

The city administration had initiated, several weeks ago, an investigation of area law enforcement agencies to obtain "the best possible police protection for the citizens of Romulus."

The complete services of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department are being offered to the city under a contractual arrangement.

A. Frans Heideman, director of the Executive Division of the sheriff's office, and Undersheriff Loren Pittman have been in consultation with the city administration regarding the Sheriff's Department's Law Enforcement Services for Romulus.

The present road patrol service is the only current Wayne County Sheriff's activity in Romulus. This courtesy service is being phased out for lack of budgeted funds.

Plans are under consideration by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners to have townships pay for road service.

The announcement of the city's investigation into contractual law enforcement with the Wayne County Sheriff's Department caused a considerable amount of pro and con discussion.

It has also caused the formation of a citizens' group for retaining the city police department.

Mayor Carmichael reported Monday that a decision is expected soon on a possible contract with the sheriff's department.

He has held several executive sessions with members of council during the last three weeks.

Chief Koch, who has directed the city police force for the last four years, asked for an opportunity to present the results of his research and planning and recommendations for the police department.

He disclosed that he had not been requested to appear before council or any citizen group for his plans or recommendations.

"In my opinion the elected officials of the city must decide for the public good and for the good of the department whether our department is to be maintained and increased or a contract be obtained for police services with the Wayne County Sheriff's Department," Koch said.

"The uncertainty has caused low morale within the departments which should not be. It has also caused ill feeling between citizens of our city, our police department and the Sheriff's Department which could be alleviated if council would make a decision in regard to the retention of our department and future plans for its growth," Koch added.

His proposals included the hiring of 12 experienced officers, the purchase of six new police vehicles and four mobile radio-transmitters.

He also called for the adoption of an ordinance that would authorize "the strength of the police department at a minimum of two officers for each 1,000 persons of the city's population."

In addition, Koch proposed salary boosts for officers.

Two women slain

Wayne County Sheriff deputies are investigating a double murder that occurred in Romulus early last evening.

Mrs. Betty Irene Cummings, 57, of 6312 Howe, and Doris Jean McCarter, 22, of 24278 Beverly, both of Romulus, were found in a car on Henry Ruff, one eighth of a mile west of Merriman at 5:54 p.m. Monday.

An eight-year-old girl, identified as Mrs. Cummings' daughter, was also in the car but was unharmed.

Sheriff deputies are seeking Roy Covington, Mrs. Cummings ex-husband, Covington and Mrs. Cummings were reported to be living together recently.

Cause of death was listed as a small caliber gun shot wound to the left temple area of both women.

Sheriff deputies are still investigating and further information is not available.

PTA Council will hear about drugs

A speaker from the Metro Bureau of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department will tell the Romulus Area PTA Council about drugs and their abuse in the Romulus, Wayne County area, it was announced.

The group will meet at 7 p.m. on Nov. 24, at Romulus Elementary School, 11165 Olive St.

Mrs. Fran Petre, council president, announced that questions and requests from local units had indicated a strong interest in having more information about drugs as they specifically apply to the Romulus community.

In addition to the talk about drugs, information will be supplied to delegates concerning recent problems in the school district relating to curriculum.

Mrs. Petre urged all units to send five delegates to this important meeting.

Attorney protests state investigation

A report made by Roger A. Boline, director of School Management Service, Michigan Department of Public Instruction, clearing Huron Township School District Superintendent Bryon K. Antcliff of charges made by three members of the school board, has been criticized by counsel for the trio.

Antcliff was charged with 14 counts which accused him of "repeatedly usurping the functions of the school board and violating the state laws governing the conduct of a school superintendent." Antcliff has denied the charges.

A four-hour public hearing on the charges was held before Boline and Raymond Godmer of the State Department of Public Instruction. Twenty nine persons gave oral testimony on the alleged conditions and problems in the school operation.

Boline reported that most of the allegations had to do with board policy. He recommended methods of improving the reported conditions and added, "In the brief consideration we have found nothing that gives the appearance of being in violation of school law."

A communication voicing strong objections to and criticism of Boline's report was issued by Larry S. Davidow, of Detroit, counsel for Mrs. Mildred Bennett, Harry W. Hartsuff and Mrs.

Erma Palmer, the three school board members who initiated the charges.

Boline's public hearing was on a similar set of charges filed by Mrs. June Davidson, president of the Huron Township Citizens Committee. Davidson in his communication to Boline stated:

"May we remind you that in the telephone conversation the writer had with you before your visit to the Huron School District, you had indicated your purpose to examine the books and records of the School District as they related to Mr. Antcliff."

"It was not indicated at that time that you were going to conduct an investigation into the charges to be made by the members of the School District regarding the improper conduct of Mr. Antcliff as superintendent."

"Admittedly you made no effort to examine the school records, but instead had a session with Mr. Antcliff, on which occasion presumably Mr. Antcliff gave you his version of the contentions involving him."

"At no time was there any effort on your part to explore the charges that would be made against Mr. Antcliff and particularly to become directly informed of the basis of the charges to be made against Mr. Antcliff."

"In other words, so far as the charges are concerned attacking Mr. Antcliff's behavior, yours was at best a pro forma experience."

"However, your letter to Mr. Antcliff has been used to support the claim that you had made an investigation of Mr. Antcliff and that you had exonerated him from any and all charges made against him."

"One of the charges made against Mr. Antcliff was his refusal to obey the state law touching the right of parents to have their children excused from attendance at so-called sex education classes."

"There is available positive proof of the refusal of Mr. Antcliff to honor such refusal even though such requests were made in writing."

"It has been stated to us that you were likewise informed but seemed to be unimpressed with the mandatory language of the law touching the right of parents to refuse to have their children exposed to sex education."

"The manner in which this unhappy situation has been handled by you and your communication relating thereto constitute a most distressing, unsatisfactory action on your part."

"Your conduct renders a disservice in the Huron School District, and we feel it necessary on the part of the people we represent to vigorously protest what you have done in this regard."

Romulus City Council has again tabled official action on a proposed Gun Control Ordinance for the city.

City Attorney John E. Young at the request of the council presented a revised Gun Control Ordinance at the Nov. 12 council session.

The revisions to a proposed Gun Control Ordinance presented to council two weeks earlier were to meet various suggestions of council members.

Gun ordinance tabled

At the Nov. 12 council meeting, additional suggestions and amendments to the revised version were made.

The ordinance was tabled to permit the city attorney to draft an ordinance to meet these additional recommendations. Councilman Ellis Pennington voted against tabling the proposed ordinance.

Complaints about careless shooting in various areas of the city either by hunters or others were voiced at the council session.

The complainants were informed that a state law prohibits the firing of guns within 450 feet of a residence of structure and that the State Conservation Commission is vitally concerned with hunters who do so.

Police Chief Jacob J. Koch was instructed to check into the complaints and areas involved.

Our readers write

Man will continue to speak out on issues

To the Editor:

In the Wednesday (Nov. 11), edition of this paper there appeared a letter to the editor from Gloria M. Chandler in rebuttal to the statements I had written concerning Mr. William Oakley, and the responsibilities of our present administration headed by Mayor Hyle Carmichael.

In the aspect of stating her views and opinions I deeply respect Mrs. Chandler for she apparently had the courage to speak her mind on what she feels is right and good.

I cannot agree more heartily with her in the statement she wrote saying, "Wouldn't it be nice to see a few more letters to the editor..." because in this light then the people of our community would take the opportunity with which to speak out and to be heard.

Yes, I totally agree with Mrs. Chandler in this thought stream of why doesn't the populace of Romulus speak what is on their mind?

It matters not whether Mrs. Chandler agrees with me, but it does matter that the people of this community know the facts and the truth and not just the rumors or vagaries as has been the case for so many years.

It always has been, and still is, my main thought in mind that the people are the supreme final judge of the good or bad of an administration, not just one voice but all voices to be heard and counted.

If I have aroused one person enough to the point of having that person declare his or her opinion then I have succeeded in accomplishing my goal of informing or educating the people of the community in which I live to begin thinking, to begin asking questions, to formulate a valid and unprejudiced opinion of the issue at hand.

How more informed can we become then by having open debate, open discussion and open views.

In the respect of whether I am "a poor loser?" That is not for me to judge, but for the people of the community to do so.

In the past six months the present administration, under Mayor Carmichael, has hidden pertinent facts from the people, he has evaded direct questions, and he apparently has failed to carry out his responsibility as head of the Romulus government to seek out that which is legal and that which is questionable or challengeable.

The people of this country have become very apathetic in what is occurring around them, in their country, their state and in their locale.

Is it better to be quiet, or is it better to speak out and be heard? Even at the cost of being downgraded? This question must be answered by each individual, for it is the individual who will do as he decides.

I have tried to teach my boys that the philosophy of the "Silent Majority," as stated by President Nixon, is not healthy for the community, for the state or for the people.

The "Silent Majority" philosophy halts progress and change, and this latter is what this country was built upon, it is what has made this country as great as it has become.

When the exchange of ideas, of comments, of criticism no longer prevails then what is left but a rubber stamp system doing as it is told to do, saying what it is told to say, and laboring upon that which can of no greatness, no reward and no unity!

Are we, the people, young and old, of this community or any community, to be treated with due respect at election time and then shunted to the side when the issues emerge, not being able to speak out, not being able to declare our sentiments?

If this is what anyone wants then I shall respect the view point, but I shall not adhere to it nor shall I advocate to it.

Romulus consulting engineers celebrate completion of office

Wade, Trim & Associates, Inc., consulting engineers, held an open house recently to celebrate completion of the major site and interior work for their new office and garage facility, 25185 Goddard Rd., Taylor.

The firm specializes in civil engineering, serving numerous communities, including Canton Township and the City of Romulus, as city or township engineer.

Although the municipal work load continues to grow, creating a proportionate increase in staff, part of the company operation remains dedicated to site development work for private clientele.

The company's scope of work covers design, drafting, construction, inspection and survey of all types of sewer, flood control, water, paving and waste treatment installations.

The three principals of the organization are Robert C. Wade, Donald R. Trim and Raymond R. Gehl. Associates are Homan L. Loveridge, Glen A. Roberts, Douglas R. Dail and Charles C. Hellman.

The total staff runs between 85 and 95 including field personnel.

As a stark contrast to the firm's previous cramped quarters, the new structure's 8,000 square feet of basically open design provides a very pleasant working environment.

Commissioners keep OEO program going

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners plans to spend up to $40,000 to keep the county economic opportunity program going while fighting a federal threat to kill the program.

The Board's Ways and Means Committee, which consists of all 26 commissioners, voted unanimously Nov. 12 to expend up to $40,000 to operate the program for one month beyond Nov. 30. The matter will come before the formal Board meeting Thursday.

The Chicago regional office of the Federal Office of Economic Opportunity has served notice that Wayne County's Federal funding, amounting to $776,000 this year, would not be renewed for the fiscal year beginning Dec. 1. The notice charged that the County OEO has been "generally ineffective."

Wayne County officials are asking for a meeting with Donald Rumsfeld, director of the Federal Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington, this week to ask him to overrule the Chicago office and renew the grant. Originally, Commissioner

John S. Cook Jr., of Detroit (D-District 17), had invited Gov. Milliken and the Wayne County congressional delegation to an emergency meeting at the City-County Building Saturday.

"A lot of the people we wanted at the meeting had prior commitments and Congressman William Ford suggested a direct meeting with Rumsfeld would get right to the point," Cook said.

Withdrawal of Federal funds would close eight neighborhood action centers located in Ecorse, Hamtramck, Highland Park, Inkster, River Rouge, Romulus, Sumpter and Taylor. Some 90 employees, including 56 recruited from among the poor, would be laid off.

County OEO programs include manpower development, a day car center in Ecorse, a Taylor dental clinic, a youth opportunity and recreation program, job counseling, a mobile family planning clinic and transportation for patients of Wayne County General Hospital.

Philip Sims, chairman of the 33-member citizens policy committee for the County OEO, has charged that the decision to kill the program was a "strictly political" move by the Nixon Administration.

Cook's committee recommended that the Board of Commissioners commit up to $40,000 to continue the program for the month of December. The committee also recommended that the Board of County Auditors assign a member of its staff as acting director of the program.

Other members of Cook's committee area: John Lesinski, of Dearborn, (D-District 20), vice-chairman; William R. Bryant of Jr., Grosse Pointe Farms, (R-Dist. 3); Robert E. Fitzpatrick, of Detroit, (D-Dist. 13); George F. Killen, of Detroit, (D-Dist. 2); Michael J. Novak of Detroit, (D-Dist. 1); and John H. Shepherd, of Detroit, (D-Dist. 12).

United Parents of Romulus will meet with school board

The United Parents of Romulus, a newly-formed organization whose goals are "to put education and order back into our school system," emphasized Monday that its purpose is not to suppress the rights of any group.

The United Parents of Romulus hope to correct certain "inadequacies" in the educational system, including lack of guidelines for teachers to follow in the classroom and resource people being brought into the classroom without clearance from the office.

Also suspended and expelled students loitering in the halls and lunchroom and management of the cafeteria. The group believes that no flag shall replace the American flag in the classroom and that American history should be taught as American history.

They also believe that a permanent record by tape should be kept of any speaker speaking in a class, and that any recording or tape that is to be played in a given classroom should be reviewed by the school board before a student is allowed to hear it.

In addition they believe that any unauthorized persons should be cleared through the office upon entering the school and should have a pass designating destination.

'Notification of suspension or expulsion of a student to the parents should be by registered letter and phone call.

The United Parents of Romulus call for a periodic review of school board policies.

The new organization welcomes anyone who would like to attend its meeting.

Times, dates and place of future meetings will be announced.

A meeting with the Romulus Board of Education is planned for 9 p.m., Monday, Nov. 23.

Could private firm run school system?

The Liberal Kan., Southwest Daily Times presents a brief editorial item on what might become a very large subject.

It reports on the Gary, Ind., public school system hiring a private company to run one of its problem elementary schools on a "performance contract" basis.

The company refunds fee for any child it fails to bring up to national grade level norms. The times comments that Gary is believed to be the first city to turn over the entire operation of a school to a business concern and concludes:

"This new trend (if it really is a trend) is in its infancy but it offers a fresh alternative to many communities now being racked by acrimonious battles over school budgets and bitter charges about shortcomings and waste in educational systems."

Possibly, if voters went to the polls with the knowledge that the school budgets upon which they were voting were to be expended on schools operating along the lines of a business-managed enterprise in which management is held strictly accountable for its performance, they would be a lot more likely to look with favor on bond proposals and other measures necessary to keep the schools running.

Also, chances are that students would learn what the word "quality" means as applied to education.

Lansing report

Parochial ends with more losers

Michigan's emotional battle over public dollars going to nonpublic schools ended at the polls Nov. 3 with more losers than winners.

The casualty list reads like a who's who in Michigan education and politics.

It is clear now that the cost of absorbing nonpublic school children from abandoned parochial systems into the public schools will far exceed the original $22 million parochial appropriation.

And it is still unclear whether the public schools will lose the claimed $60 million in federal money coming to Michigan under programs which insist nonpublic schools get an equal share.

Robert N. McKerr, associate superintendent of public instruction, said that of all nonpublic schools closed, the cost at $80 per student would wipe out the $22 million.

The 1970-71 school aid bill carries per-student grants ranging from $110.50 to $623.50. The Catholic archdiocese of Detroit threatens to close 105 parochial schools and the Lansing diocesan board of education said it expects "major closures and cutbacks."

The Lansing board ordered its remaining schools to reject any auxiliary services from public schools on Dec. 18 "even if they are locally offered."

It all started simply enough with the legislature, after two years of debate, appropriating $22 million from public money to assist the secular phase of nonpublic education.

The argument then was money and its diversion from public schools. Later the church-state argument was used, the competitive-school doctrine was restated.

Citizens Against Parochialism (CAP) rounded up more than 300,000 signatures to place it on the ballot Nov. 3. Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley ruled the language was invalid and it could not go to a vote.

The Appeals court and the Michigan Supreme Court overruled Kelley and it went on the ballot as Proposal C. Kelley and others said the final language would outlaw auxiliary services.

These were the extensive counseling, remedial reading, programs for the mentally and physically handicapped services that nonpublic schools were given in 1965.

After voters approved the proposal banning any public aid to nonpublic schools, CAP executives said it meant just that, "no public aid in any way, shape or form."

Now CAP attorney Erwin Ellman and others are trying to prove that the 1965 services can be continued.

The only beneficiary appears to be the Michigan Education Association (MEA) which now has 75,000 members and will get more as extra teachers are hired in the public schools.

Another quirk is that public schools cannot get more money this year to finance the extra student load without changing at least two laws — the appropriations bill and the statute fixing student enrollment as of the fourth Friday of the school year.

The facts indicate that both the public and nonpublic schools will lose, at least this year.

Now for the political victims, the lesser casualties. Kelley was forced to take a position three times, a modern record — on the ballot proposal, on the appeal to the supreme court and on his interpretation of the impact of Proposal C.

There was no impact of any noticeable measure on his re-election as attorney general, but politicians fear the delayed reaction should Kelley try for the U.S. Senate in 1972.

Senator Sander M. Levin was damaged by an identity problem. He first opposed parochialism in the legislature, but then rejected Proposal C because he feared it would wipe out auxiliary services, which he co-sponsored in 1965.

Gov. Milliken — who staved off Levin's challenge for the governorship — always has supported limited nonpublic school aid. He then opposed Proposal C.

Observers say the issue cut both ways in the Milliken-Levin race.

The supreme court — which historically tries to be above the battle — went on record to place the language Kelley found defective on the ballot, then ruled that parochialism was constitutional.

Then the voters overruled the supreme court by changing the state constitution to ban parochialism.

Politicians see a light on the horizon, however, the tradition that the attention span of voters has never reached from one election to the next.

But the schools — whether Proposal C is good or bad for them — will just have to live with it.

Speaking of schools

What is school accreditation?

Accreditation is a procedure used to rate high schools according to their overall excellence in their educational programs which include both curricular and extra-curricular activities.

In order to be ranked as an approved or "accredited" school, it must comply with minimum standards and requirements as outlined by the educational organization.

At one time, students graduating from an accredited high school were able, in many instances, to enroll in many colleges and universities without taking an entrance exam. Due to the crowded conditions that exist in the most of these institutions today, this is no longer the case. Having an accredited high school does assure the community and the board of education that the standards established by the accrediting agency are being met or exceeded.

There are two such agencies in Michigan which review and evaluate school programs, the University of Michigan through its Bureau of School Services and the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

In Michigan, it is mandatory for schools to be evaluated by the University of Michigan. These evaluation visits are scheduled every five years. Participation in the North Central Association accreditation is voluntary. Some schools may prefer to be accredited by both agencies or just one. Of the 720 high schools in Michigan, 328 are members of North Central.

The North Central Association is an accrediting agency for high schools, colleges and universities within 19 states located in the midwest. Schools may continue their membership so long as they comply with the criteria and conditions of membership.

Schools which are unable or unwilling to conform to the regulations adopted by the membership of the association may withdraw or be dropped from membership.

Accreditation by either agency requires a con-

Follow rules of the road

With the arrival of the year's most dangerous days for those who drive automobiles, it behooves us to reflect on our knowledge of the proper "rules of the road."

Fall and especially winter days with their shorter daylight hours and snow and ice-covered roads warrant prudent driving on the part of all motorists when behind the wheels of their cars.

Safe driving programs to be successful in any community must have the full cooperation of car driver and pedestrian.

Local police agencies strive constantly to keep the streets and highways safe for all, but the traffic accident and injury toll continues.

They report that inattention behind the wheel of the car and insufficient knowledge of the rules of road especially "defensive driving" are in the main responsible.

Defensive driving is "driving in a manner which will prevent accidents in spite of the actions of others or the presence of adverse driving conditions," reports Chris Imhoff, traffic expert.

The rules of the road are available in an excellent brochure issued by Michigan Department of State entitled "What Every Driver Must Know."

It is interesting and a worthwhile reference book. It would serve as a good refresher course for a lot of Michigan drivers.

Last year, 56,400 Americans were killed in traffic accidents. Another two millions suffered disabling injuries.

"This tragic toll will continue unless the individual driver becomes personally involved in the campaign against highway carnage. Every motorist can do his part in this campaign by driving defensively each time he gets behind the wheel," said Imhoff.

Dr. Bradley Greenberg, a Michigan State University communications specialist, believes soap operas should be broadcast in classrooms to give school children a more realistic look at life than they get from the violence-ridden shows they watch at night.

A wedding ring may symbolize the end of your "freedom" but if worn on the job, it may also mean the end of your finger.

So say Michigan Department of Labor safety consultants who point out that safe attire for many jobs excludes rings and other jewelry which might be caught in machinery or snagged on stationary objects.

Something to think about isn't it?

Huron progresses under Supt. Antcliff

To the Editor:

Huron School District, under the aggressive leadership of Byron I. Antcliff, Huron School superintendent; and Assistant Superintendents Carl T. Renton and Luke Wegienka, is really showing progress where it counts.

As an example, in the last two and one-half years the following programs and grants have come to our school district because of this great team effort.

1. Child Development Consultant Program at Riverside Elementary School from University of Michigan.
2. Community School Program in basic adult education with over $30,000 in cash grants to our school district. Over 350 young people and adults enrolled this year, compared to an enrollment of 75 last year.
3. Wayne County Community College Center. Huron received over $5,000 for this program.
4. Savings of approximately 25 per cent in purchase of supplies by joining the group purchasing program with Wayne County School Business Officials.
5. Use of our new buildings for tuition students, bringing an amount of $47,385 into our school district, including tuition and state aid.
6. Over $65,000 in interest earned last year by properly investing and using building and site and operating funds.
7. Almost $37,000 of federal funds to our school district for Title I and remedial reading programs.
8. Over $70,000 received by our district for Title II, National Defense Education Act, Title VA counseling and vocational education programs. Vocational education? A program that is helping to make some of our non-college bound students carpenters, mechanics, plumbers, electricians, cosmetologists, etc. Not bad, eh?
9. Teaching Staff? Approximately 42 per cent of our staff now have masters degrees. Compare that with other districts.

We could go on at length, but space does not permit. Now, these are facts. The Huron School District has shown more improvement under the leadership of Messrs. Antcliff, Renton and Wegienka than any other district in Wayne County. Our school district has become the envy of schools in the entire downriver area. Incidentally, our athletic facilities, our school band and our students and athletes have made a real mark of success in the entire area during the last two years.

Again, let us state these are facts. Hundreds of parents, students and citizens seem to realize all this and are happy to see such progress. There remains a small vocal minority, however, which insists that some of our administrative staff should be fired. Whatever for? Who knows?

As for us, we shall continue to support and encourage this excellent administrative team to go right on with their excellent record. Never in its history has the Huron School District had so much to point to with real pride. These are facts.

Number of registered nurses in state down

While a significant dent is being made in the shortage of doctors in Michigan, the number of registered nurses in the state is diminishing.

A study just released by the Michigan Health Council shows in the past two years the number of doctors registered to practice in the state has risen by 380 and the number of dentists rose 359.

But during the same period, the number of registered nurses in the state actually dropped by 196. The problem is made worse by the fact only 62 per cent of the registered nurses licensed in Michigan actually are engaged in nursing at this time.

"There is a shortage of several hundred thousand registered nurses nationwide, and Michigan is severely short," says John A. Doherty,

By ELMER E. WHITE
Secretary, Michigan Press Association

executive vice president of the Council.

"We have only 277 employed registered nurses per 100,000 population," he said. This compares to ratios such as 408 per 100,000 in New York, 395 per 100,000 in Pennsylvania and ratios much higher than Michigan's in other large states such as California, Illinois and Ohio, he said.

Doherty said many

Michigan hospitals, including the University of Michigan Hospital at Ann Arbor, have had to close large sections and wings because of the lack of registered nurses. He said the shortage is particularly severe on night shifts and weekends.

The council estimates there is a current shortage totalling 50,000 in all health personnel in Michigan and has set a goal of rectifying that situation by 1975.

Among the goals it has set are the following:

— achievement of a ratio of one medical doctor for each 800 residents rather than the current ratio of one doctor for each 1,002 residents.

— reaching a ratio of one registered nurse to each 150 residents, rather than the current ratio of one nurse to 213 persons and a ratio of one licensed practical nurse to every 200 persons rather than the current one practical nurse for each 453 persons.

— establishment of one dentist for each 1,500 persons rather than the current ratio of one dentist for each 1,893 persons.

Michigan launched an ambitious program which it hopes will be the forerunner of the establishment of a decent housing unit for every resident of the state.

The project, taking place in Detroit, will result in the rehabilitation of 1,000 housing units in the inner city. And while the total cost will be $15 million, the project will be paid off by persons who move into the renovated units and by federal grants and state revenues.

The $15 million is being raised through the sale of bonds and notes which will be paid off through rents and federal monies.

stant review and evaluation of the overall school program. This inspection procedure is accomplished by requiring member schools to submit a very detailed, comprehensive annual report to the parent organization. This report includes copies of the schools master schedule of classes, class sizes and teacher preparation.

Other sections of the report deal with such areas as the library facilities and its number of books and magazines; the number and qualifications of the guidance counselors; financial data regarding the school district; and follow-up studies of our graduates.

By continuously examining and re-examining ourselves and with the additional help of having people from other schools aid in identifying our strengths and suggesting ways to improve our weaknesses, schools are provided with still another means of keeping abreast of the ever changing world.

Diabetes blood tests offered at area school

Free blood-screening tests to detect diabetes will be available from 4 to 8 p.m. on Thursday, Dec. 5, at the Hannan Road Elementary School, New Boston. The tests are part of the search for the more than 100,000 hidden diabetics in Michigan.

Sponsored by the Michigan Diabetes Association (MDA), a United Fund agency. Persons planning to be tested are advised to have a meal rich in sugars and starches two hours before testing, to ensure the most accurate result. They are asked to bring the name and address of their physician if follow-up is necessary.

According to James J. Aiuto, M.D., chairman of the MDA Diabetes Detection Committee, those who are over 40, weigh more than they should and have a family history of diabetes are especially urged to be tested.

Road Patrol continues --for a while, at least

Wayne County's Board of Commissioners has tentatively decided to maintain the present strength of the Sheriff's Road Patrol and to appropriate $213,756 for the narcotics-fighting Metro Squad.

The Commissioners, meeting as the Ways and Means Committee Nov. 12, voted to rescind the cut of six patrolmen imposed in the County budget which takes effect Dec. 1.

They also voted to appropriate $213,756 to enable Sheriff William Lucas to hire 13 men to staff the undercover narcotics unit known as the Metro Squad.

The Ways and Means actions are subject to approval by the Board of Commissioners at its formal meeting Thursday.

Citing restrictions of an austerity budget, previously the Commissioners had rejected Sheriff William Lucas's request to separately fund a Metropolitan Squad and had elected to eliminate six men from his road patrol division.

Thursday's action would allow the Sheriff to continue his "present level of manpower and services" while he is negotiating efforts to end free road patrol service as it is now being provided.

The Commissioners voted to establish a Special Committee "for the purpose of reviewing alternative methods of financing adequate law enforcement throughout the County of Wayne, and ability and willingness of local communities (primarily townships) to finance local police protection, either by establishment of their own police departments or by contract with the Sheriff."

The Committee is to consist of two members of the Board of Commissioners, plus representatives of the Board of County Auditors, the Sheriff, the Prosecuting Attorney, and the Citizens Research Council of Michigan. Their report would be due within six months, during which time the Sheriff is to retain his present road patrol force.

The recommendation to form the special committee is another strong indication of the Board's determination to discontinue road patrol service unless it is financed by the communities that benefit.

The Commissioners maintain that local communities should provide their own police force or reimburse the sheriff for these services.

Official votes to keep deputies

Wayne County Commissioner Edmund Bizik of Romulus (D-District 24) voted to restore the nine positions to the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol. He also urged that townships be given ample time to make alternative arrangements before free patrol service by the Sheriff is withdrawn.

"You can't suddenly eliminate a service that they have been receiving for 120 years," he argued. "You have to give the people in those townships time to go to their boards, and, if they don't have the money, put a millage proposition on the ballot."

Bizik voted against adoption of the county budget recently because of the cuts in the Sheriff's Road Patrol and the Port Commission which the budget contained.

All Around The Town

Gifts galore for Pat Mason

PAT MASON, who is to be the December bride of Jerry Bies, was guest of honor Sunday at a miscellaneous bridal shower given by Mrs. Henry Bies and Mrs. Harry Mason.

Held at the Bies home on Harris Road, the party included some 85 guests from Allen Park, Wayne, Milan, Whitaker, and neighboring cities. Bingo was the afternoon entertainment and numerous door prizes were awarded after which a buffet supper was served.

The red and white color scheme of the upcoming wedding was used in decorating for the event. When it came time for Pat to open her gifts, she found them arranged beneath a white net parasol and around a matching wishing well. Helping with the ribbons and wrappings were members of the bridal party: Sue Bies, Barbara Bies, Theresa Bies, Naomi Mason, and Joanne Mason and the two flowergirls, Mary Jo and Sharon Mason.

St. Anthony's Catholic Church will be the scene of the young couple's December 19 wedding.

Her work benefits patients

...THERE'S A VERY ambitious and thoughtful gal over Romulus way named Mrs. Alice Towne who could use a little help. Know those beautiful Christmas cards you just hate to part with come the holiday season's end? Well, she can use them!

For the third year, Mrs. Towne is doing decoupage on bars of oval soap, selling 'em and buying gifts for hospital patients with the profits. Taking bits and pieces from various cards, she creates a composite picture on the soap, paints the scrollwork on the bar, then dips the scene in wax to set the works.

Her craft, which benefits patients at Ypsilanti State Hospital and the Plymouth Training Home, sells for 50 cents a bar and may be purchased by calling WH 1-1161 or stopping in at 3783 Wabash St., Romulus.

Farewell dinner for Costa Rican

MRS. MYRTLE KREIE is to play hostess this evening at a dinner party in her Liberty Street apartment. Honored guest is to be Liliana Echeverria of San Jose, Costa Rica who has been in Ann Arbor for nearly a year working at the University of Michigan. She is planning to return to her homeland next month.

Guests attending will be eight of Liliana's co-workers at the School of Natural Resources who are to gather for the farewell gesture. Highlighting the evening will be a special cake topped with the flags of America and Costa Rica.

Karen celebrates sixth birthday

KAREN SIEROTA, middle daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ronald Sierota of Quirk Road, had a recent birthday, her sixth, which was filled with all kinds of activities.

First off, she had specially-decorated cupcakes to share with her fellow kindergartners (21 in all) at Edgemont School where she was serenaded with "Happy Birthday".

Then a few days later, she and her sisters, Val and Terry, and their mom were invited to Ann Arbor for dinner with the Hudge girls, Nancy and Nora, and their mother, Mary Anne. After dining it was off to the Wayside Theater to see "Hello, Dolly" and then to Bill Knapp's for cake and ice cream.

The finale for the oldest girls was a pajama party at the 11-dge's new residence on Woodside Road.

Romulus youth has Bar Mitzvah

HARVEY ALLEN MILLAR, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Kline of 30282 Cherry Avenue, Romulus, celebrated his Bar Mitzvah at Temple Beth Am in Livonia. Rabbi Steven Chester of Cincinnati presided at the Friday evening rite with some 25 friends and relatives in attendance including Harvey's little sister, Cheryl, three months old, and his 10-year old brother, Glenn.

The following afternoon a reception was held at the Kline home with 30 guests attending. Among those congratulating the young man were his grandmothers, Mrs. Betty Goldberg from Encino, California and Mrs. Mary Col of Phoenix. Also his dad, Alan Millar of Phoenix, and others from Southfield, Hamtramck, Wayne, Romulus, and vicinity.

Dessert was served after which the honoree opened his many gifts which included a telegram from Senator William Faust and a letter from Sander Levin.

Word comes from Romulus

A NICE NOTE from Lawrence and Virginia Peter of 28000 Northline Road, Romulus, tells us they have a new grandson who arrived Oct. 5 at Pontiac General Hospital. Born to their daughter and son-in-law, Pam and Fred Barckholtz of Pontiac, the baby was labeled Terry Scott. Pam will be remembered as Romulus' Junior Miss of 1965.

Then, too, there's news of the Peter's son, Lawrence David. A 1970 Romulus High graduate, he enlisted in the U.S. Marine Corps and is now training at San Diego, Calif.

Welsh houseguest at Patalocco's

RECENT HOUSEGUESTS of the Albert Pataloccos of W. Columbia Ave. were Wendell and Opal Huestead of Uniontown, Pa. Flying in from Chicago to join then was Mrs. Peggy Hutchinson of Brecon, Wales, who had been visiting her daughter, Mary, an airline stewardess for Pan American, stationed in the Windy City.

The Welsh visitor and her husband had been hosts to young musicians traveling with M.Y.I. (Musical Youth International) when the Patalocco's son, Dwight, was a member of the group in 1967.

After numerous letters and several phone calls, Mrs. Hutchinson made the trip to the U.S.A. and during her stay visited Detroit, Belle Isle, and Canada. While at the border, Mrs. H. was surprised to have the inspector inquire about a ballroom in the city of her birth.

After a tour of Greenfield Village and a visit with Dwight and Cathy Patalocco in Wayne, all enjoyed dinner with the Glenn Huestead family in Westland.

The Pataloccos were all delighted to return the many kindnesses Mrs. Hutchinson had shown to our traveling youth.

Eva Nehez feted at shower

ST. ANTHONY'S Catholic Church has been reserved for the December 18 nuptials of Eva Nehez and Mike Skidmore. Eva, busy with last-minute wedding preparations and her teaching duties in Van Buren Schools, took time out from a busy schedule to enjoy the festivities of a bridal shower.

Tagged "Miscellaneous," the party was hosted by Barbara Nehez, Ann Todd of Bloomfield Hills and Cheryl Walters of Chicago.

Some 25 friends and relatives traveled to the Nick Nehez home on Savage Road from Melvindale, Ypsilanti and Belleville. Games with a wedding theme were followed by a luncheon and the opening of gifts.

Belleville Band switches from marching to concerts

By VICKI WANTY

With the last football game over and the last marching show presented, the Belleville High School Marching Band puts away their marching instruments for another year and prepared for their concert season.

In less than four weeks, the 70 members of the Belleville High School Symphony Band must prepare for their first concert of the season. The bands' first performance will be their Christmas concert to be presented Dec. 16.

The change from marching to concert season is a great one due to the fact that approximately one-third of the band members must change from marching to concert instruments.

The music which they will now play requires a great deal more technique and control than did the marching music. It is a more refined and delicate type of music.

Even though the entire symphony band will present a concert on Dec. 16, members of the band will be participating in the Suburban Eight concert this Friday, (Nov. 20.)

The band, composed of musicians from each Suburban eight school will present the concert at 8 p.m. at Trenton High School. The concert is open to the public and no admission will be charged.

The hours of car wash will be 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. A car wash will cost $1.

INSIDE VIEW OF VEGA — The "inside story" on the operation and construction of one of the industry's most talked about cars — Chevrolet's Vega 2300 — is given in this specially built exhibit to be featured at the Detroit Automobile Show Nov. 21 through 29. In the display, the unusual "hatchback" trunk area of this coupe model opens and closes on a cycle powered by electric motors. Engine, transmission and other components also are operated in slow motion to give showgoers a look at the actual operation. Cutaway windows allow the viewer to see the moving parts as well as the mechanical makeup of the car. Earphones are located along the rail and can be used to learn the details of the new little car, and the features of its new aluminum alloy block 4-cylinder engine.

Life Extension Foundation tells about cold prevention

"Whudz gud for my cobe?" That's a question being asked today by millions of people across the nation.

And the answer, says the Health Insurance Institute, citing data supplied by the Life Extension Foundation, is to get physical with it.

That is, drown it, sweat it out, sleep it to death, cool it. But first, go directly to bed with one or two aspirins and a hot lemonade.

The idea is to keep drinking - water, fruit juices, tea and the like - and perspiring and resting.

If the cold is caught early, and you follow this advice, there's a good chance you may be able to fight it off in one night.

But if your cold is already under way, here are some of the more drastic measures prescribed by the Foundation:

Take a hot bath, followed by a hot drink, then go to bed. There's no harm in putting a couple of tablespoons of whiskey in your hot drink if you're accustomed to it, as it will assist in the perspiration process.

Next, bundle up in extra blankets. You may even wear a sweater and wool socks to bed to encourage further sweating.

A hot gargle is recommended for a sore throat.

The Foundation, a New York based private diagnostic organization, further recommends that the average person "toughen" himself against the onset of the cold by "exercise, fresh air and cool water baths."

It adds: "Cool baths - not cold ones - are good. They are usually beneficial to everyone except the very young and the very old or sick."

"Cold baths should be taken cautiously and only by those who respond well to them. For the bath to be beneficial it must give a sense of well-being and pleasant warm glow to the body."

But remember: "Colds are caused by germs, or a virus. Not by drafts, or by letting your feet get wet, or by going without sleep. But those things can lower your resistance."

Here's a do-it-yourself program to treat your cold:

1. Begin treatment at the first sign.
2. If it's begun, take a hot bath. Get into bed.
3. Follow with a hot lemonade and blankets to induce sweating.
4. Drink all the fluids possible while confined to bed.
5. Call the doctor if your efforts have not helped.

Commission okays zoning change

The Van Buren Planning Commission has recommended a rezoning from residential to general business for two parcels of land on the east side of Belleville Rd. north of the I-94 Expressway and just south of Westaway for the construction of a Marathon Oil Company station.

The commission's approval was made following a public hearing held Oct. 28 at the township hall. There were no objections filed.

Sam Thomas, representing the oil firm, spoke briefly in favor of the rezoning petition pointing out that the firm selected the land parcels after careful research.

The heavy traffic flow on Belleville Rd. and the nature of the property—being located across from general business zoning—makes the property a logical C-1 zoning use rather than residential, he said.

He reported that construction will begin in 1971 and that passenger cars only will be served.

At a recent meeting held by the club, the By-Laws of the club were accepted and passed.

The acceptance of the by-laws reunited the Democrats of Romulus into one organization.

In the Nov. 3, election, the Democratic candidates took it by a wide margin in the Romulus area.

VFW Post will sponsor Scouts

Boy Scout Troop 1739 will be sponsored by the Romulus Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) Post 9568, Scoutmaster Charles R. Kline has announced.

Kline reported that he was notified of the sponsorship by Post Commander Clarence De Pas, who also announced that Tom Greca, chairman of the Youth Committee, will act as institutional representative for the VFW Post and the troop.

The Troop Committee declared that it is with pride and honor that these two organizations can now merge into one unit, and that a close working relationship can develop between the two.

Kline and Kenneth McCallum, chairman of transportation, went on an overnight camping event with Scouts Harvey Millar and Michel McCallum to Brighton for the purpose of intensified training in the field and in the camp.

Last Saturday, Nov. 14, the troop was treated to a visit to the University of Michigan's Museum and Planetarium for the boys and the families of the scouts.

This weekend the troop will be off again on another weekend hike to Flat Rock, all in preparation for "Summer Camping in 1971."

The troop committee has given final approval for the scouts to take an Easter Vacation Trip to Washington, D.C., and the Hungry Wolves Patrol has endeavored to take on a Christmas selling project to aid them in their finances for this project.

The boys of the troop will be camped in one of the many Scout Camps, located around our National Capitol.

Mrs. Kenneth McCallum, chairman of the Mothers Auxilliary, is presently making plans for a Court of Honor Dinner for the night of Dec. 14.

Cruising tropic waters aboard a 150-foot schooner, shining beaches and gay calypso dancers are among highlights of the color movie, "Caribbean Holiday," to be shown for the World Adventure Series, 3 p.m. Sunday at the Detroit Institute of Arts Auditorium.

He shows fun at sea on both ships and goes ashore for tours of French-flavored Martinique; Port of Spain, Trinidad; Willemstad, Curacao; Port au Prince, Haiti; San Juan, Puerto Rico; and all over Jamaica from Kingston to Ocho Rios.

Also pictured are deep sea fishing, snorkeling, resort hotels, and a sea food picnic on a deserted coral cay.

Daily Eagle Review

Ice Follies sticks with some tradition

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Amusement Critic

In recent years the Shipstads and Johnson Ice Follies has become the most tradition-minded of the ice shows, which isn't surprising since it had the same producers for 35 years. Now Oscar Johnson has died and the Shipstad brothers have retired, turning over the 1971 edition, now at Olympia, to Eddie Shipstad's son Bob.

The program promises total innovation, but actually Shipstad is taking things easy—nobody who saw the 1970 edition would deny the bloodship of this year's revue.

Mr. Frick for his 33rd year is still playing an Alpine toy soldier and searching for his spotlight. Richard Dwyer, the Young Debonaire has dropped the "young" from his title, but he's still handing out roses to a lady in the orchestra amid a panoply of costumed ladies and the world's most expensive chorus line, the Swing Waltz, composed of soloists like Dwyer and Susan Berens, is still in operation.

And, of course the Ice Follies are still concluding with a precision routine featuring the last skater playing catch-up and the Rockettes sweep, without which no ice show is permitted to operate.

And the Ice Follies is still the most gimmick free of the shows, concentrating more on star performances than on novelties.

But signs of change are creeping in. In the traditional children's number the Jolly Green Giant has replaced Inky-Dink and the Swing Waltz theme has vanished. More significant, the Shipstads have joined the trend toward mod music and light shows, notably in psychedelic number called "Kaleidoscope" and a mirrored number called "Rhapsody in Cool."

Besides these and the vegetarian numbers, the Ice Follies goes country in a blue grass number, heads toward

New Orleans aboard a Mississippi show boat and turns slick in a "West Side Story" number.

Peggy Fleming, who bowed two years ago in a number twice as hard and flashy as any other routine, has learned that difficult and spectacular are not synonyms and has become a crowd pleaser. But her numbers—produced by her own crew and not by Ice Follies choreographer Helen Maxon and director Stanley Kahn—are still too arty and pretentious. Miss Fleming, a gifted artist worthy of better staging, should trust the Ice Follies pros next year.

Oh, yes, Snoopy. He appears briefly to open the show and later returns to conduct the entire act. The Red Baron would never believe it.

Players, PTA plan kids' play

Wayne Civic Players and Wayne Area PTA Council are presenting "Land of the Dragons" Dec. 4-5 at Wayne Memorial High School.

Tickets will go on sale in Wayne Area schools, Nov. 24-25. There will be tickets sold at the door, depending on the outcome of school sales. Tickets may be purchased through the Players by calling Ann Button, 261-3183.

Funds from the play are used by the PTA for their annual clothing bank, which furnishes needy children with clothing. Also, a scholarship is given to a student at John Glenn High School and Wayne Memorial.

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP) — Mark Wagner, a restaurant owner here, recalls the time when during a remodeling project the carpenter left a power saw in one room. A well-heeled customer, after a steak and martini dinner, proceeded to take the saw and slice up furniture in the banquet room. Then he instructed Wagner to add the damage to his bill and paid without a murmur.

Camelot production extended

Will-O-Way Theatre and Ark Enterprises announces that due to the large response to the current production "Camelot", they are able to extend the run for one additional weekend—this Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

"Camelot" is produced by Ark Enterprises in cooperation with Will-O-Way Theatre. In the lead as Arthur, King of England is Jon Tanner of Allen Park; the lovely Guenevere is played by Diane Magaw of Dearborn. Ronald Lundmark of Detroit plays the extraordinary mortal, the perfect and invincible knight, Lancelot Du Lac.

The comic old knight, Pellinore, who delays with perpetual search for a rare beast to visit Camelot is portrayed to the delight of our audiences by Richard Grossman of Orchard Lake. The villain in the play, Mordred is played by Randy Rollison who is busy searching for his lovely aunt, Morgan Le Fey, who is played by Agnes Mallia of Detroit.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. for all performances. Tickets may be purchased at the box office a half hour before curtain time, but to assure a seat, reservations may be made prior to 6 p.m. on the evening of the performance by calling 644-4418. Camelot is playing at the Will-O-Way Theatre, 775 W. Long Lake Rd. in Bloomfield Hills.

Senior play this weekend

"Ten Little Indians", a chilling mystery about people stranded on an island with an unknown killer, has been selected as the senior play to be performed at West Senior High School at 8 p.m. Nov. 20-21.

Sponsor Judy McGregor has chosen an all-star cast of players to tackle the play's many difficult roles. The featured participants are: Don Watkins, Greg Turley, Mark Willett, Dave Simon, Tom Kjellberg, Robert Hood, Joan Kaplinski, Pam Prince, Judy Closser, Debbie Frischheiser and Marty Blaney.

Tickets for each performance will be available at the door at a cost of $1 for adults and students or 50 cents for children under 12.

Grid gates slam shut on prep season

Tigers remain enigma

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

a good-looking, 6-0 lead with less than six minutes wasted in the quarter.

Then, Well, there just wasn't another team until late in the third quarter. By that time Glenn had piled up a 19-6 edge thanks to halfback Tim Kowalski who scored all three Rocket T's on short runs of three, five and six yards, respectively.

The game was no different from the season pattern. Belleville launched the year with a decisive victory over Wayne Memorial, a team that beat third-ranked Ypsilanti in the course of the year.

The Sports Meridian

A purely speculative column

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Whether it be in high school or college, undefeated football teams can't afford the luxury of a weak performance — it causes too much speculation.

Purdue's near upset of Ohio State's "invincible" grid machine generates such thoughts as "just how good are the Buckeyes?" who were seated on top of the nation for most of the 1970 season. Only Saturday's Michigan-Ohio State clash may reveal some of the answers.

And last Friday night's chilling experience at Garden City West where the Tigers shattered much of their city rival's image when they played the undefeated East team to a 14-all tie also caused some thoughts of controversy.

"It just goes to show that the Mid-Wayne League isn't as tough as the Tri-River," said Harold Birkholder who at one time was West Senior High's head football coach and is presently handling the defensive coaching chores for Birmingham Brother Rice.

"I feel this is one of the reasons why East has not been ranked this year despite their perfect 8-0 record," he added. "The Mid-Wayne is down while competition in the Tri-River Conference has been improving right along."

One would have to agree with Birkholder after viewing the East, West clash. But only speculatively speaking.

True, West was an "also ran" in the Tri-River all season long, coming on strong at the end of the year when it claimed victories over last place and winless Dearborn Heights Crestwood. The Tigers also dumped Taylor Kennedy — a surprise winner of the previously undefeated, Melvindale squad which has had a share of the title outright for the two years the Cardinals have been members of the league.

West, however, also holds a victory over a well-balanced John Glenn team that beat a Belleville squad who knocked off Wayne Memorial. And Wayne also trimmed a once-third ranked Ypsilanti team.

And you can go on and on and on...

These boys will make the grade in college.

Thus, East's ride through the Mid-Wayne this season was accomplished not because everyone laid flat for the Panthers, but because the champs had the mechanics to engineer the feat.

This, of course, brings speculation about: "How good is West?" The answer is simple — as good as the Tigers want to be. They proved to East that they could play on equal terms with them on any given day. It's up to the coaches to instill that "feeling" each week.

Some weeks they can — on others it's impossible.

If coach Draheim had his senior halfback Ken Stupyr for the entire season (Ken was out for three weeks because of an injury) it's doubtful that the Tigers would have hovered near the league cellar all season long.

But this is pure speculation.

Ask any coach, he'll tell you.

The "ups" and "downs" of coaching

Meanwhile, Garden City East registered its eight game winning streak at the expense of the likes of Riverside, Annapolis — two teams that broke even or better in their leagues. The Panthers also routed Lutheran West, Lutheran East, Robichaud, Riverview and Taylor Center.

According to those who make their living speculating they know which includes a Panel of experts at the Associated Press, East's victims weren't really not "live ones."

The Mid-Wayne is at present an aggregation of zombies, according to some.

But can East be placed in that category?

We don't think so.

East, in this columnist's opinion, has the best quarterback in the area in Greg Puishes. And the only other play-caller that can come near him is Wayne Memorial's Rick Stevens.

And players like East's Bobby Kleinbrook, Gary Lyman, Dennis Kesik injured Tom Dobozy and Cass Mulka are "blue-chip" players in any man's league.

The Tigers, however, failed to find their way into the winning column until they tripped up Suburban Six adversary, Livonia Bentley, which lifted them out of the cellar.

Pettus' deceptive moves and ruggedness has been the key to the Tiger offense throughout the year. And the Glenn battle was no exception. After scoring the initial touchdown, he came back to pile up 123 yards including a second tally pulled off in the closing minute of the third period.

Pettus broke loose on a 55-yard jaunt thanks to key blocks by Terry Pate, Tony Ogletree and Dave Remus. He also slipped off tackle for the two-point conversion.

The Tigers managed to maneuver into touchdown territory two separate times but the threats fizzled because of an errant pass and a fumble.

"It's been a frustrating season," said Tiger coach Keith Emerson who rounded out his inaugural year as the head coach. "I think we will have to build a football program here using the axioms of Pride, Desire and Never-Say Die."

"After that opening victory with Wayne," he added, "we thought we would have a good football squad, but we had a letdown in the following weeks and we are still trying to figure out what happened."

The Belleville coach pointed out that Pettus had an outstanding season and that fullback Ogletree and Dave Remus were also bright spots in what was a dismal Tiger year.

"I know it's difficult to say anything when you're losing because it's interpreted in different ways by the fans," said the Belleville coach. "But I feel we will have a great team in the nearest future here at Belleville."

Buckeyes should do it

Here we go again, sticking our heads on the block. But, there's another "Battle of the Century" coming up this Saturday in Columbus, Ohio and surely I have to put my two pence worth about the outcome of the game.

Pick Ohio State, sirs. Yes, Sir, you read it right and right here: It's Ohio State - I can't see the Wolverines (those I would sincerely like to) coming out of Columbus with a victory. Especially after what the coach Bo Schembechler's boys did to Woody Hayes' boys last year about this time.

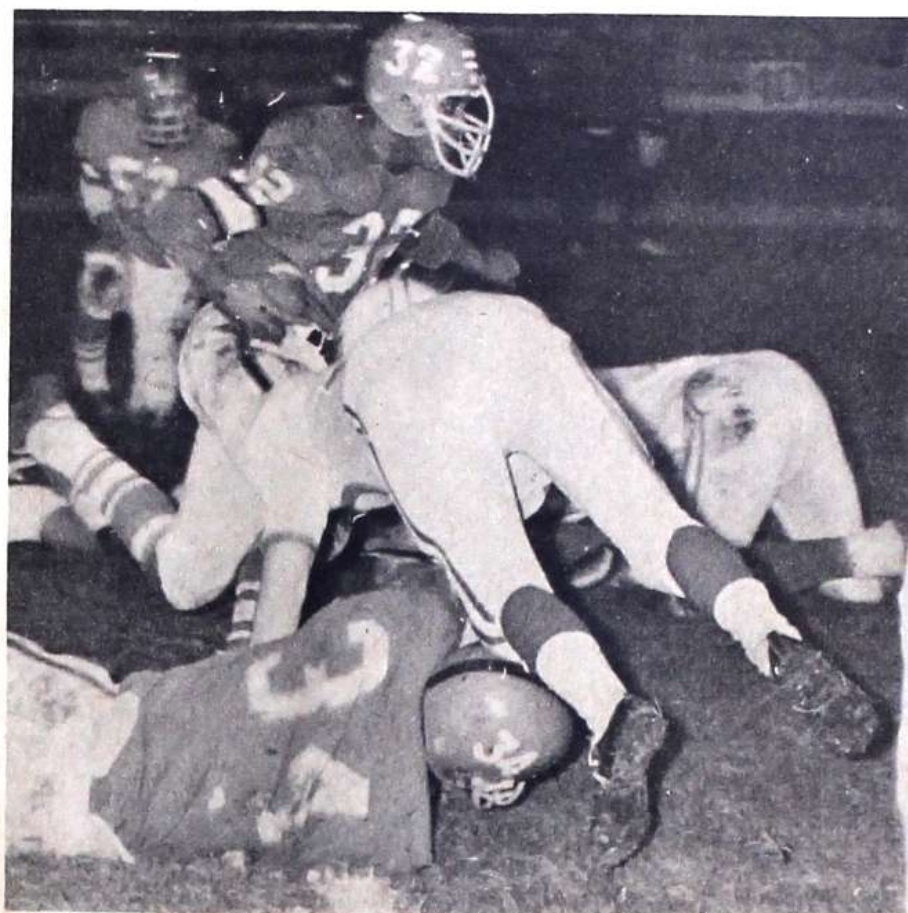

Osterberg is 'King' of Panel of Experts

Charlie Buck move over, Belleville's Bert Osterberg is taking over your chores.

Bert proved he "can pick 'em" as he emerged with 63 of 83 predictions correctly to earn first place among the Panel of Experts. His .758 percentage for the season nipped Basil Stevens' record of .734 for the honors and everything that go with it.

"It's easy when you know what you're doing," said the modest new King of the Experts.

But other members didn't think so, especially sports Editor Tom Mooradian who hovered near the bottom of the RUNNING WILD — Belleville's senior halfback Garrade Pettus (32) came up with another one of his superb performances Friday night as he scored all of his team's points in a 19-14 setback from nonleague rival, Westland John Glenn. Pettus rushed for 183 yards in 26 carries in his final appearance in a Tiger football uniform.

Romulus shuts out Bulldogs

A sputtering Romulus defense ironed out its first half kinks and exploded for two touchdowns in the third quarter to wreck Dearborn Heights Robichaud's homecoming 12-0 Friday afternoon.

Unable to untrack its offense until the third quarter, Romulus finally put together a 55-yard, 10 play drive after the kickoff to score their first touchdown.

The final 17 yards was polished off on Ken McMann's aerial to Perry Gray. Brent Hamilton's 25-yard sweep set up the Eagles' initial TD.

After an exchange of punts, Romulus again tilted the scoreboard in its favor then they plowed up 62 yards in eight plays and picked John Arrington to go the final three yards.

Neither conversion attempt was on target.

The victory, Romulus' fourth in nine appearances, kept the Eagles' winning streak "alive." Coach George Pratt's boys have won their last three outings and that was a cause for elation.

"I'm very happy the way the season ended for us," said coach Pratt. "It gives us three in a row going into next season and that will be our biggest boost."

The win also equalled the best the Eagles have performed on a gridiron since 1963.

In the finale, Romulus' linebackers Leighton Ballard and Bryon Ashley helped turn off Robichaud's offense. The duo appeared to be in on most of the tackles. Also a standout on defense was Mike Csaszar.

Offensively, Arrington and Brent Hamilton shared the spotlight as Arrington rushed for 81 yards in his 17 attempts and Brent picked up 60 yards in 10 tries. Smith accounted for 53 yards for his eight rushes and Leslie Davis ran for 23 yards for six chances.

Neither team used their routes because of the bitter winds. The temperatures hovered near freezing making

Iowa dominates all-time Big 10 grid selections

Iowa, with four selections, dominated an all-time, All-Big Ten football squad of 22 members announced over the weekend by Commissioner Bill Reed.

The squad, on which Illinois, Purdue, Michigan and Minnesota each placed three players, was named by the Big Ten Skywriters to commemorate the conference's 75th anniversary.

The list of 22 spanned an era from 1931 through 1968 with three Illinois players, Harold "Red" Grange, Dick Butkus and Alex Agase missing unanimous selection by one vote.

Despite a heartbreaking loss in the final game of the season, Huron and coach Lee Smeltzer emerged from the 1970 campaign with the best football record in the 20 year history of the New Boston high school.

In the finale, the Chiefs bowed to league rival, Flat Rock, 9-0.

"I'm proud of these boys," said coach Smeltzer who rounded out the year with a 6-3 record, "and the record speaks for itself."

"We had a good season and there is a lot to look forward to," he added.

Huron moved up from the depths of the standings to finish fourth in the 10-team league with a 4-3 record. Tecumseh replaced defending

Both teams were also hampered with penalties as the Eagles were thrown back for 65 yards while the host was given 109 yards for its infractions.

The Twin-Valley Conference also named its All-League gridders this week and Romulus gridders were awarded four first string berths. Offensively, Gray and Arrington were picked as an end and fullback, respectively, while Ballard and Csaszar were chosen linebacker and defensive tackle.

Buried Treasure

SCUNTHORPE, England (AP) — It took Linda Blomeley, 18, four hours to find her false teeth. Her husband, Colin, and three relatives stripped beds, moved furniture and turned up newly laid turf in the yard before the teeth were dug up near a rose bush where Suki, Linda's pet poodle, had buried them.

Social Security question -answer

Q. I had a heart attack two months ago and am at home recuperating. My employer has insurance that pays me $60 a week for six months when I am ill. I know there is a six-month waiting period for Social Security disability and the insurance takes care of that. Should I come in to see Social Security about disability after my other insurance stops?

A. You should call the Social Security Office right away. While there is a six-month waiting period before Social Security disability payments can start, this does not mean you must wait six months to apply.

By applying right now, your claim should be all complete and the decision on disability made before the end of the six-month waiting period. The first check then would arrive on time.

A disabled worker or members of the family should call the Social Security Office as soon as it is clear that he won't be returning to work for quite a while. The telephone number to call is 584-7200.

SELF-EXPRESSION — Proving that coaches are human after all is Robichaud's Bill Yauch who apparently didn't like what he saw on the field Friday afternoon when his Bulldogs took on nonleague rival, Romulus, in the season's curtain drawer and expressed himself. Yauch and his team went down 12-0 as the Eagles exploded for two third quarter touchdowns to win their third straight decision.

Romulus receives sum of $40,059

The City of Romulus received the sum of $40,059 in road tax refunds in the third quarter distribution of Michigan's Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections, Michigan Highway Department reported.

Department Store gets permit

Among the 40 building permits approved by the Romulus Building Department during October was a permit authorizing the repairing of fire damages to the Romulus Department Store, located at 38431 Goddard Rd., owned and operated by Joseph Lambert of Bloomfield Township.

The store was damaged by the fire repairs was listed at $35,000.

Romulus Department Store is also the area branch for the Michigan Secretary of State's office.

In last week's issue, it was incorrectly reported that the building permit was issued to the Romulus Hardware Store.

Net receipts for the third quarter of July, August and September, 1970 amounted to $77,766,148, State Highway Director Henrik E. Stafeth reported. This is an increase of $5,271,480 from the third quarter of 1969.

The highway fund is made up of the seven-cent-a-gallon state tax on gasoline and diesel fuel and motor vehicle license plate fees paid by motorists.

Floats, clowns highlight Thanksgiving Parade

Skyward bound clowns and a jack in the box that pops high into the air highlight this year's Thanksgiving Day Santa Parade sponsored by The J.L. Hudson Company. Jack, the bouncing figure that leaps 32 feet into the air, is the tallest float in the 44-year history of Hudson's parades. The city's cross-town wires limited past floats to a height of 16 feet.

This year a manual device inside the float allows an operator to control the toy jester so that he can go underneath the wires and then spring up again.

Joining the fun will be a group of clowns carrying brightly colored helium filled balloons which sporadically seem to go out of control, lifting the clowns high into the air.

For an added touch of sparkle, six beauty queens will reign over the festivities. They include: Miss America, Phyllis George of Texas; Miss Michigan, Ginger Myers of Lincoln Park; Detroit's Miss Black Michigan, Faith Hood; Paula Ann Maxwell of Michigan State University; Miss Cherry Festival; Miss Detroit Auto Show Jeanne Shinl and Marlene McNamara, Miss Junior Achievement of Flint.

They're all part of the 44th annual parade which features 18 floats, 11 bands, over 2,000 marchers, clowns, baton twirlers, even unicyclists.

Nearly 400,000 people are expected to line Woodward Avenue on Nov. 26 to see the parade. Millions more across the nation will watch live television color coverage on CBS starting at 10:25 a.m. (WJBK Channel 2 in Detroit).

Mets pitcher Tom Seaver and his wife Nancy will narrate with Bob Barker, host of "Truth or Consequences." Total local coverage will feature Sonny Eliot on WWJ Channel 4 starting at 10 a.m. The parade begins at 9:20 a.m. at Woodward and Putnam, with the first units arriving at the front of Hudson's at 10:15 a.m. The 50-minute parade breaks up at Woodward and Fort.

The lineup of new floats includes a religious scene set in the manger, the clowns with balloons, Captain Hook in a rocking rowboat desperately trying to escape the crocodile snapping at his heels, and the jack in the box which is this year's winner of the Detroit Public Schools float design contest.

Besides floats there are 11 bands in this year's march. Michigan bands include those from Detroit, Algonac, Hazel Park and Franklin Village. Out of state bands are from Jackson, Tennessee; Portland, Indiana; Kenova, West Virginia; Paris, Kentucky; Proctorville, Ohio; and the University of Iowa.

The Marchin'ettes of Allen Park, an all-girl drum and baton corps which is the World Twirling Association national champion, will perform. The Marchin'ettes lead off the parade, just ahead of the Detroit Police Mounted Division.

The clown units are Zal Gaz Grotto Clowns of Ann Arbor, the High Bawl Hoboes from Ohio, and the Clarence Staton Clown Troupe of Albion, Inc.

Five men work year-round on the parade, with 19 others putting the finishing touches on as Thanksgiving draws near.

Hudson's has been presenting the parade since 1924 except for a two-year lapse during World War II when materials were not available.

Spiders provided the decor for an extravagant double wedding in Louisiana in 1970. Planter Charles Durand had his workmen release spiders in the three-mile venue of trees leading to his manor. After the spiders had spun their grossamer arches between the trees, the workmen used billows to blow silver and gold dust into the webs beneath which Durand's two daughters were wed.

DOODLE BUG, smiling gleefully, once again wiggles his way down Detroit's Woodward Ave. in the J.L. Hudson Company's Thanksgiving Day Parade. More than 500,000 people see the parade each year and millions more view it on CBS-TV. This year's coverage will begin at 10:25 a.m. Thanksgiving Day.

40-year resident,

Mrs. Morris dies

Mrs. Flora Morris, a long-time resident of Romulus and mother of Pearl Morris, Romulus correspondent for the Romulus Roman, died Monday afternoon. She was 76.

Mrs. Morris died at Wayne County General Hospital where she was admitted after suffering a stroke, Nov. 5, at her residence at 13880 S. Huron River Dr.

Funeral services will be conducted by Robert Bros. Inc., Funeral Home, Belleville, when funeral arrangements are completed.

Mrs. Morris was born in Richmond, Mich. She has been a resident of the Romulus area for more than 50 years. Her husband, Ray, died in 1952.

VAN BUREN PUBLIC SCHOOL MINUTES

REGULAR MEETING

October 12, 1970

The Regular Meeting of the Van Buren Board of Education was held in the Board Room of the Administration Building on Monday, October 12, 1970 at 8:00 p.m.

Members present: Mrs. Doris Roe, Mr. Robert Archer, Mr. James Sayre, Miss Barbara Rogalle, Dr. Richard Muse, and Mr. Chauncey Schweigert. Absent: Mr. Charles Bole. Also present were Superintendent Kaulitz and Business Manager Von Destinon.

The meeting was called to order at 8:05 p.m. by Vice-President Schweigert.

The minutes of the regular meeting of September 14, 1970 were approved as printed.

The bills for the month of September were reviewed. Motion by Rogalle, supported by Muse, that the bills be paid as presented. Motion carried.

Superintendent Kaulitz read a letter from Mr. William Shunk of the Wayne County Intermediate School District asking the Board to appoint one member and an alternate to serve on the Wayne County Occupational Education Advisory Committee. Schweigert was appointed with Sayre as alternate.

Superintendent Kaulitz also read a letter from Mr. James L. Borough, Supervisor, School Food Services Section, Department of Education, asking for adoption of a policy statement pertaining to free and reduced priced school lunches. Either the sample policy received or a similar one must be adopted by November 1, 1970. Motion by Archer, supported by Sayre, to adopt policy attachment II-a and Income Scale "B" (copies attached) with Business Manager Von Destinon as the person to determine to whom free lunches will be given and all appeals to be taken to Superintendent Kaulitz. Motion carried.

Business Manager Von Destinon opened and Archer read bids received from three banks for a $762,400. loan against future state aid. They were as follows: Detroit Bank and Trust — 4.74 per cent interest rate, National Bank of Detroit — 3.97 per cent interest rate, and Manufacturers National Bank — 4.60 per cent interest rate. Motion by Muse, supported by Roe, to accept bid from National Bank of Detroit. Motion carried.

Mr. Raymond Kohr was asked to give a report of the results of the Michigan Assessment Program. He read a compilation of the results and also informed the Board of the haste in which the tests were compiled and that he felt the tests to be given in January, 1971 would be more sophisticated. He also informed the Board that the district will again be participating in the National Assessment Program.

Mr. Kohr also reported on the newly formed Curriculum Council. He explained why it was formed and how it will handle areas of concern. He listed committees that were formed to work on concerned areas with priorities yet to be established.

The Board was asked by Mr. Brown, Chairman of the North Central Association Evaluation Steering Committee, to appoint a representative to the School Staff and Administration section of the above mentioned committee. Mrs. Roe was appointed as representative.

Superintendent Kaulitz read and the Board discussed the first preliminary report from the Junior High Curriculum Committee. It was noted that some suggested changes have already been made for the 1970-71 school year. It was suggested that there be a deadline on citizen study committee reports so action could be taken on suggestions wherever feasible.

Mr. Ford and Mr. Brown were present and discussed the need for the purchase of two photocopy machines for the high school. Motion by Archer, supported by Rogalle, to purchase one A.B. Dick Electrostatic Model 675 with cabinet and installation for $1390, and one A.B. Dick Electrostatic Model 675 with cabinet and installation with a coin vending attachment to be used in the library for $1390. Also that the $800. of unused school gift money be allocated toward the purchase of machines. Motion carried. (The coin vending attachment costs $85.00, but with the purchase of two machines, this attachment will be provided as per the above price quotation.)

A date for election for a bond issue was discussed. It was stated that March 18, 1971 was being considered but no final decision has been made.

Motion by Sayre, supported by Archer, to adjourn. Motion carried. Meeting adjourned at 9:40 p.m.

Santa discovers Southland November 27, the day after Thanksgiving, at 10 a.m. Over 100,000 are expected to view the First Annual Southland Santa Parade, professionally arranged with the same vim and vigor of the J. L. Hudson Downtown Parade on Thanksgiving Day. Over twenty different cities in Southern Wayne County are expected to participate in this parade with a fantasy on wheels and marching bands from each.

There will be a Choo-Choo and Caboose, hand crafted, completely self mobile, puffing real smoke, ding-dinging its way along the parade route.

Another treat for the kids will be the 100 ft. Southland Centerpede slurring along. In addition to this, there will be forty units consisting of Drum and Bugle Corps, Scottish Pipers, U. S. Marine Color Guard, and hundreds of parade walkers, colorfully costumed, with free gifts from most of the floats being tossed in Mardi gras fashion to the crowds along the route.

The climax of this once in a life time parade will be Santa discovering Southland for the first time.

When Santa discovers Southland, pulled by his reindeer and sleigh, led by Rudolph the red-nosed reindeer, he will discover a 150 lb. ethnic, hand crafted, Dickens Nut Tree.

He will also discover the German hand crafted Nativity Scene from Oberammergau, Germany, the home of the 300 year old Passion Play. In his new home, Santa will see and talk to all the kids in the downriver area on his beautiful pink magic sleigh, covered with over 25,000 diamond lights and surrounded by a fantasy land of animated snow-land friends.

This fantasy land surpasses anything this area has ever seen and will be sure to delight all the hearts of the kids downriver.

Santa will be at Southland every day till Christmas between the hours of 10 a.m. and 8:30 p.m., Monday through Saturday, and Noon till 6 p.m. on Sundays.

Crafts, cookies on Home Arts November agenda

Members of the Home Arts Club had a busy evening Monday as they met at North Junior High School for their November meeting. Christmas wall hangings and a cookie exchange were on the program prepared by Charlotte Budd and her committee, Dorothy Florian, Ruth Haynes.

At the business portion conducted by Jan Sierota, president, the group of 29 welcomed four guests, Bunny Rogers, Jessie Borst, Ann Spinella, and Carol Boychuck. They were also introduced to six new members: Joan Dardas, Barb Forsythe, Carolyn Hyde, Jean Ferguson, Janet Patterson, and Helen McCann.

Betsy Chapman, an art teacher in the Van Buren Schools, was invited to demonstrate the making of a burlap wall hanging which employed yard, felt, glitter, sequins, buttons, and other bits and pieces from the groups' sewing baskets. Some followed a Christmas theme in their pictures while others found other subjects to use.

Each member, having been requested to bring two dozen cookies and her recipe, then enjoyed a cookie exchange with sampling allowed. Many unusual recipes were contributed including those with cranberries and pumpkin. All types of goodies were on display — cut-outs, molded types refrigerator concoctions, drop cookies, and many colorful Christmas creations.

The December gathering, the traditional Christmas party, will be held at the home of Jan Sierota and is a closed meeting. The executive committee will have charge of the evening and those wishing to do so may bring a dollar gift to exchange.

Dessert and coffee were later served by Doreen Craven and her refreshments committee: Mary Kosin, Carol Dolph, Carol Fitch, and Gladys Budd.

Don't be careless: handle that turkey with proper care

Michigan State University Food Scientist Richard Lechowich says: "A bird thawed in the refrigerator is worth two thawed at room temperature." (Unless of course, you want to spice your holiday menu with bacterial food poisoning.)

According to Lechowich, bacterial food poisoning frequently occurs during the holiday season when homemakers prepare large quantities of food which overtax refrigerators and other kitchen facilities.

Personal sanitation and proper temperature control of food items will prevent such problems, says Lechowich. Bacterial infections account for 67 percent of the food poisoning in the U.S. — an estimated 2,000 outbreaks per year, he reports.

Major culprits are staphylococcus, Clostridium perfringens, and salmonella. Staphylococcus is transferred to foods by humans during preparation, while the other two forms can be carried by foods themselves.

Lechowich offers the following tips for trouble-free holiday meals.

First, thaw the turkey at temperatures just above the freezing point. Thawing in the refrigerator is best, but if space and time don't permit, birds may be thawed under cold running water — 1½ to 3 hours depending on size. Do not thaw at room temperatures. The bacteria thrive between 40 and 140 degrees Fahrenheit.

Arrange meal schedules so that the turkey will go into the oven almost immediately after thawing, and onto the table immediately after cooking.

Don't use the same utensils or containers for both raw and cooked foods without first washing them thoroughly. Hands, knives and cutting boards can be major transmitters of bacteria between foods.

Don't stuff the turkey the night before. The dressing will stay warm even in the refrigerator and temperatures will be favorable for bacterial growth. Also don't partially cook the turkey in order to save time just before the meal. This practice puts the bird in the 40 to 140 degree range that bacteria like.

Be especially careful of dressings and gravies. These items should go directly from cooking temperatures in excess of 140 degrees to the table.

"Good health extends beyond the meal," says Lechowich. "Proper cooling of leftovers is important. Don't leave foods at room temperature for more than two hours."

canning the many vegetables her husband grows.

Friends and relatives from Ypsilanti, Flint, Midland, Sanford, Hope, Oscoda, Mason, Rochester, Goodells, Port Huron and Ohio are expected to attend the reception.

The Perkinses recently enjoyed visits from her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Hess of Washington, D.C., and Mr. and Mrs. John Clark of Preston, Miss.

The Perkinses were married Nov. 20, 1920 in Charlotte, Mich. Rev. Perkins has since been pastor in several churches in Michigan and has had speaking engagements all over the country and Canada.

He and his wife moved to the Ypsilanti area in 1941 and lived there until 1956 when they transferred to Goodells to pastor a church there. Since Rev. Perkins' retirement in 1965, they have made their home at 11089 Borgman, Belleville.

Besides his activities at Bethany Baptist Church, Rev. Perkins keeps busy with a large garden each year, does all his own painting and house repairs and even manages to do the same for his friends. Three years ago he formed a group to visit the Ypsilanti State Hospital and to hold services once a month for the patients which he still continues to do.

Mrs. Perkins has her Sunday School work to keep her busy. She also helps with the Bible Club held each week at Quirk School, is active in the Belcourt Extension Club, and has hobbies of sewing, knitting, crocheting, and

A DIFFERENT DUO — So you've been asked to bring dessert for Thanksgiving dinner? And you're tired of the usual pumpkin or mince pie (especially when your own family doesn't care for either?) Well, surprise everyone with something different, this unusual combination of frozen raspberries and fresh pears. Start a tradition of your own with an updated pie ala 1970. It can be served warm with ice cream or cool with a dollop of whipped cream. Either way, it's delicious!

For Thanksgiving Day make a new dessert

Nothing pleases family and guests like a bright berry pie. And this Raspberry-Pear Pie, with ruby-red filling peeking through a latticed pastry top, is sure to evoke praise.

To be sure the pastry is tender and flaky, start with a package of pie crust mix; you'll love the convenience and the dependable, high-quality results. Fill the pastry with frozen raspberries and sliced fresh pears, then weave pastry strips over the top to form a lattice pattern. Bake 'til the pastry is beautifully golden brown...serve warm pie to delighted guests...and wait for the compliments!

RASBERRY — PEAR PIE
Makes 8 servings

Crust:

One 10-oz. pkg. Flako Pie Crust Mix

Filling:

One 10-oz. pkg. frozen raspberries, thawed
Juice of 1 lemon
¾ cup sugar

3 tablespoons cornstarch
2½ cups sliced fresh pears

Heat oven to hot (425 deg. F.). For crust, empty contents of package into bowl. Sprinkle water by tablespoonfuls over mix; stir with fork until just dampened. Form into ball. (If too dry, add a little more water.)

Divide into 2 parts, one slightly larger. Roll out large part on lightly floured board or canvas to form a 13-inch circle. Fit loosely into 9-inch pie plate. Trim.

For filling, drain raspberries, reserving juice. Combine raspberry juice, lemon juice, sugar and cornstarch. Add sliced pears and raspberries; mix thoroughly. Pour into pie shell.

Roll out remaining dough to form 12-inch circle. Cut into ½-inch wide strips. To make lattice top, lay half of the strips across filling. Weave other strips over and under these. Press into edge; trim off ends; flute. Bake in preheated oven (425 deg. F.) 15 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate (375 deg. F.). Bake an additional 30 to 35 minutes.

THANKSGIVING 1970

We thank God always every morning,
And at the end of the day—
And we find ourselves rejoicing
Upon Thanksgiving Day.

We thank God for the shining sun,
We thank Him for the rain,
For the many changing seasons,
And the fields of grain.

We thank Him too for food and drink,
And clothes upon our back—
We know that we are in His care
And there can be no lack.

We thank God for our many friends
And for our family,
And for a help-mate kind and true,
Who means the world to me;

For children and grandchildren too,
And also the great-grands—
Oh what a family this all is,
Happiest in the land!

We thank you God for your presence,
For your loving and giving—
Thank you as we celebrate
On this, another Thanksgiving.

VA to ask questions by mail

More than 34,000 Michigan veterans and dependents who receive monthly VA pension checks have been alerted they will receive annual income questionnaires with their Nov. 1 check. Robert M. Fitzgerald, Director, Michigan VA Regional Office in Detroit, made the announcement today.

Fitzgerald pointed out 1971 pension payments will be based on information submitted by the recipients. He urged prompt response to the questionnaire as payments will be withheld unless the form is completed and returned no later than Jan. 15.

VA pension payments go to veterans totally and permanently disabled from injury or illness not connected with military service. Widows and children of deceased veterans may also be eligible for such pensions if they meet certain income limitations.

Parents of deceased veterans who received dependency and indemnity compensation payments are also required to fill out and return the questionnaire.

Pension payments, unlike service connected compensation, are based on the amount of income a recipient receives from other sources. The income questionnaire requests information on the amount of income the beneficiary received in 1970 and the amount anticipated in 1971.

Fitzgerald emphasized that failure to return the questionnaire could not only cause pension payments to cease, but could cause a refund of payments received during 1970.

Pensioners who need assistance in completing the questionnaire may contact the VA Office nearest them.

Search beginning for nation's top 4-Hers

Since the beginning of 4-H in the early 1900's its educational efforts have been directed toward the development of youths' citizenship potential. Today 4-H citizenship programs take on added significance in a world teeming with unrest and social change.

Nearly 25 years ago, a 4-H citizenship awards program came into being. Friends of the late Thomas E. Wilson, a pioneer Chicago meat-packing executive and long-time president of the National 4-H Service Committee, provided a memorial fund in his honor.

This year some 75 state winners are expected to be considered by the Cooperative Extension Service in their selection of two national winners.

The selection process will evaluate the 4-H members growth and participation in community and civic affairs. Leadership in working with others—4-H, school, church and community — will be considered.

And those making the selection will determine how the 4-H'er has accepted the responsibilities of a citizen and shared his interest and understanding with others.

The two national winners, one boy and one girl, will receive expense-paid trips to National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 29 to Dec. 3. They also will receive $600 educational scholarships and at the final banquet, receive two of six presidential awards.

Last year 42 states name 73 winners in the national 4-H citizenship program. The two national winners were Elizabeth Humber, 20, Fayette, Ala., and Lawrence Bruckner, 20, Thomson, Ill. Their scholarship are being used at the University of Alabama and Trinity College, respectively.

For information about the citizenship program, contact the county extension office.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

How and when can one label a person a success - or failure? For example, do you remember who said, "I do the very best I know how, the very best I can, and I mean to keep doing so" ...?

The man who said that had many heartbreaking reverses. In his time, many people classed him a failure. His record showed a business failure in '31 ... defeated for Legislature in '32 ... another business failure in '33 ... elected to Legislature in '34 ... his sweetheart died in '35 ... he had a nervous breakdown in '36 ... defeated for Speaker in '38 ... defeated for Elector in '40 ... again defeated for Congress in '43 ... finally elected to Congress in '48 but then defeated for the Senate in '55. Finally, in '60 he was elected PRESIDENT!

A failure? NO! A success? Certainly. Who was the man who lived through the frustrations, the despair of so many defeats? Who was the man who proved there is no such thing as lasting defeat for one who strives to succeed? The immortal Abraham Lincoln!
